

Why Martin Library?

We believe that libraries reflect the communities they serve. Martin Library at Salem Square will be a resource for the community and by the community.

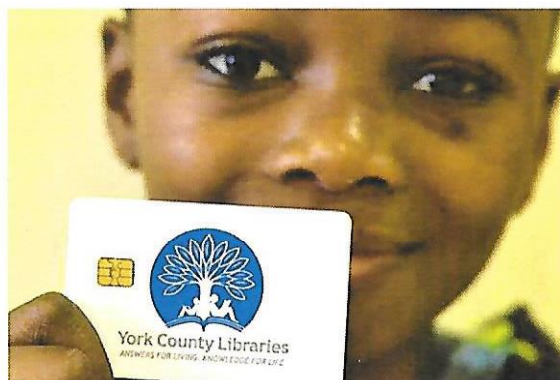

Martin Library at Salem Square will employ local teens and offer bi-lingual programs. Housed adjacent to the Community Policing Station, we will serve the Salem Square neighborhood in a manner responsive to community needs.

Innovative Work Skills

One quarter of York City residents with income below 50% of poverty level live in Salem Square.

Job-seekers today are required to meet a minimum level of technology competency that many applicants do not have.

Why Salem Square?

Salem Square is a neighborhood on the brink of change. An area once known for violent crime and drug-related incidents is beginning to transform from the inside out.

Martin Library is here to help.

Martin Library has provided high quality library services to York City since 1935. Our services have evolved to include after-school programming for children and teens, technology assistance, resume help, and story time.

Over 450,000 people visit Martin Library each year and our impact will deepen by connecting at the neighborhood level.

Martin Library at Salem Square is a collaboration whose time has come.

What can you expect from Martin Library at Salem Square?

- Workforce development
- Technology access
- After-school programming
- Early Literacy programming

Invest in transformation

Today we have a chance to reach the most marginalized citizens in our city by bringing opportunity to their doorstep.

We are seeking support at various contribution levels. Please contact us to learn more.
